DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "plurality of channels", in each form (i.e. "proximal to the central axis", "spaced along the periphery") must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-8, 16-17, 19, 21-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mentzel et al (US. Pat. No. 5,423,336).

Mentzel discloses all that is recited in the claims because it teaches a ventilated filter cigarette having a tobacco strand 10 (corresponding to the claimed "tobacco rod"), and a filter section 2 connected thereto, wherein the filter section 2 comprises an air-permeable filter core 12 or filter body 14' having a centrally-located small duct 16 (corresponding to the claimed "first...section of filter material...wherein at least one channel extends through said first section of filter material"); a mouthside filter section 6 (corresponding to the claimed "second...section of filter material"); and a chamber 4 filled with activated carbon (corresponding to the claimed "an adsorbent material contained within a last a portion of [a] compartment") (see figs. 1,5 and 7).

Regarding claims 3-5, and 22-24, Fig. 1 shows the embodiment where filter core 12 is readable on these claims since the core is "air-permeable", it automatically satisfied the "channel" language since there has to be "channels" through which the air passes in order to be delivered to the smoker. These channels would be situation along the periphery of the core 12, as well as proximal to the central axis of the core 12.

Regarding claims 6-7, Figs. 5,7 show embodiments where the cross-sectional area is clearly met.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 9-15, 18, 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mentzel (US. Pat. No. 5,423,336).

Regarding claim 9, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have provided the cellulose acetate tow in plasticized form since this is conventional in the cigarette art.

Regarding claims 10-15, according to the Figures, it appears that these dimensions are obviously; however, if not, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have arrived at these dimensions after routine experimentation to find optimal lengths of each section so as to efficiently deliver smoke to the user which has lessened amounts of harmful components.

Regarding claims 18 and 20, the claimed activity and particle size of the activated carbon would have been obvious parameters for which to have selected for the activated carbon used in the Mentzel reference since these are not unconventional attributes of active carbon.

Response to Arguments

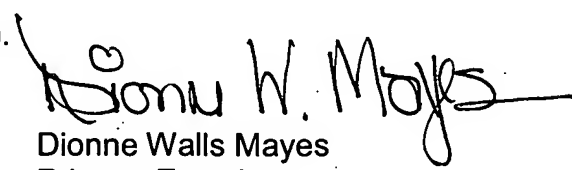

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
